

Cadman and Smith are sent on an important mission for the Nazis—
a mission that could cost them their lives!

CADMAN THE SPY WITH THE YELLOW STREAK

NEVER THOUGHT I'D MARCH IN A NAZI PARADE! IT'S WELL ORGANISED. WE HAVE TO DISCOVER WHERE ALL THE MONEY IS COMING FROM TO BACK IT, SIR.

SOME OF THE SPECTATORS ARE HOSTILE, SMITH. THERE COULD BE TROUBLE!

After the First World War, Major Gerald Cadman, V.C., was sent to Germany as a secret agent to infiltrate the growing Nazi movement. Only his assistant, Sergeant Tom Smith, knew that Cadman was really a rogue and a coward. One day...

DOWN WITH THE NAZIS!

GAD, WE'RE BEING ATTACKED!

TEAR DOWN THEIR FLAGS!

IT'S A RIOT! I'VE GOT TO GET OUT OF HERE!

GET THE STORM TROOPER!

URK! THEY'RE AFTER ME! I'M SURROUNDED!

KEEP AWAY FROM ME!

HANG ON, MAJOR! WE'RE COMING!

THEY'RE RUNNING! YOU'VE SAVED THE FLAG, MAJOR!

MAJOR CADMAN WAS TRYING TO SAVE HIMSELF! IT JUST HAPPENED THE FLAG WAS THE ONLY WEAPON HANDY!

FORM UP! MARCH ON! YOU'VE EARNED THE HONOUR OF CARRYING THE FLAG, MAJOR!

ME? ER—OH—THANK YOU!

IT'S AN HONOUR MAJOR CADMAN COULD DO WITHOUT! IT MAKES HIM A TARGET! BUT I DON'T THINK WE'LL BE ATTACKED AGAIN. THE NAZIS PLAY TOO ROUGH!
