

B is for bull, which refused to move from a goods shed. The problem was solved satisfactorily. See K & last issue.

C is for Corporal Albert Copperwaite, who is responsible for the running of the Desert Railway. Copperwaite, after the war would later go on to fight injustice and crime as The Guard.

D is for Private 'Denis the Menace' Dennison, the man to go to for those hard to find supplies.

E is for the emptiness of the Sahara Desert...you would think. See Q.

