

j is for a jeep, one of two specially modified to run on railway lines. One is attached either end of the wagon(s), which allows the train to run forwards or backwards, without the need to turn a jeep around. A push / pull arrangement.

K is for Karim a farmer, who retrieved his bull, peacefully with a few motions of his hand and whistles.

L is for La Salle, a Spahia engineer in the French Army, on loan to the Desert Railway. A man of great strength.

M is for Medical Orderly Singh, Indian Army, who likes to talk...and talk and talk. Other wise a first class orderly.
