

KILL OR DIE!

Corporal Jim Bradley was captured by the Germans on the Normandy battle-front in 1944 and injected with a slow-acting poison by Nazi scientists. They promised to give him an antidote if he killed top Allied commanders but Bradley managed to get some antidote himself, only to discover it had to be taken under medical supervision.

Trying to reach some American soldiers similarly poisoned, Bradley bluffed German troops into believing he was a Nazi secret agent, when they were attacked by an American tank.
